Fisher built 388 Fulton, a signature concept by renowned San Francisco architect David Baker, who has a track record of designing modern, highly functional dwellings fit for today's social and car-less lifestyle. Centrally located in the heart of Hayes Valley, the thoughtfully designed 69-unit building offers studios, one-bedroom and two-bedroom units, all of which are appointed with high-quality fixtures and appliances. Building amenities include one-to-one bike storage, a panoramic rooftop retreat, lush private courtyard, styled work-lounge space and boutique sidewalk retail.
